KU KLUX KLAN VISITS THE COLORED METHODISTS AT VANDALIA MISSOURI

Rev. J. Ewing Kuykendall, Pastor Of C. M. E. Church Accepts Money From, and Praises Work of Hooded Band.

Consternation Prevailed As The Hooded-Robed Figures Tile Down The Aisles Of The Church

Special to The Argus

VANDALIA, Mo., Sept. 30—Quite a sensation has been stirred in this community this week following a visit of members of the Ku Klux Klan to the C. M. E. Church here last Sunday night, where they were cordially received by the pastor, the Rev. J. Ewing Kuykendall.

The first act in the drama came when about forty Klansmen, fully robed and hooded, filed up the aisle of the church and marched to the pulpit where Rev. Kuykendall received them. The spokesman for the Klan made a brief talk, telling about the Klan and its "noble principles and white supremacy," etc., and handed the pastor an envelope containing $25.00.

In response, Rev. Kuykendall praised the Klan for its "good work" and took the money graciously.

Consternation reigned for a while, but the conduct of the pastor led all to believe that he had invited the Klan to his church, because he selected a text that was pleasing to the hooded band.

There is much dissatisfaction among the members concerning the visit of the Klan, and a revolt is threatened by some. They say that Rev. Kuykendall has sold out to the Klan for "25 pieces of silver." It is now common talk that this is not the first time that the Klan visited churches where this man was pastor. The Klan is considerably strong in this community, and much fear prevails among the colored population that the Klan will visit summary punishment on any of the colored people who speak disparagingly of its members. Therefore many of the church members are keeping quiet, for they believe that their pastor will "patch" up them to the members of the Klan.

It is understood, however, that a movement is on foot by the people generally to have this man Kuykendal moved from this community for the welfare of the colored people.

A committee was appointed to present a protest to Frank Cody, superintendent of schools. Meanwhile the white parents have withdrawn their children from the partially new school. The incensed parents also visited Miss Inez Caswell, superintendent of the district, and asked that their children be returned to the Birdhurst school building. Miss Caswell is said to have refused to recind the order. The transfer was made because of congestion in the Birdhurst school.

EXCURSIONS DISAPPOINT LABOR SEEKING PLANTERS

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Sept. 30—The white planters in this vicinity were chagrin Sunday to find that excursion trains from the north did not contain a host of Negroes seeking cotton picking jobs on their plantations.

In anticipation of the return of groups of home sick Negroes for whom the cotton fields hold a "lure", the planters of Coahoma County were on hand to meet excursion trains from "the north."

Three hundred and fifty-nine colored persons arrived on the special. But to the woe of former "captains" and "bosses," lords of the plantations, they found that the band had changed "George" and "Sam."

The former colored Mississippians arrived in silk, satahs and high collars, with a polish and culture that somewhat astounded the home folks. The majority explained to the labor seeking planters they came merely for a brief visit of their relatives, and could not tarry from their northern positions long enough to render them any service.

CHANGE DISABLED VETS COMPENSATION PLANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—A new grating bible that will eventually affect the compensation payments of thousands of disabled former service men in all parts of the country was approved Thursday by Colonel Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans bureau.

Since the organization of relief work for men scarred in the world's war, compensation has been paid under a set scale based wholly upon the disability without reference to the work in which the man was engaged prior to enlistment.

The Reed-Iormann law of June 7, 1924, called for compensation based upon the average impairment of the individual in the work in which he was engaged before putting on the uniform.

Under this for instance, a violin player, who has lost the small finger of his left hand, would receive far more compensation than would a laborer with the same degree of disability, while the loss of a leg for a man whose occupation entailed much walking would receive more from the government than would a veteran whose vocation had required little standing or walking while on the

CALLS NORDIC SUPERIORITY THEORY MYTH

Quota Law Shows Prejudice And Intolerance, Yale Sociologist Declares. Does Not Test True Worth.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 30—"Belief in the biological superiority of the native American who is taken to be Nordic and the inferiority of all others seems to have been one of the chief reasons for the support given the quota law," declared Prof. Maurice R. Davie of Yale University, noted sociologist in attacking the present immigration statute.

"In spite of its lack of scientific backing or perhaps because it is, consciously and its in with popular, prejudices—the Nordic myth has gained rather wide credence. Belief in the biological superiority of the native American, who is taken to be Nordic and in the inferiority of all others, seems to have been one of the chief reasons for the support given to the Quota Law," said the Yale scientist. "This display of race and tolerance and prejudice is, to say the least, deplorable. In the same law of 1924 one provision was included out and sheer race prejudice—from which excluded all Asiatics. The provision was aimed at the Japenese and was inserted to satisfy the sentiment in California.

"A less prejudicial and much more scientific way of restricting immigration is, as I have suggested, to put our immigration laws squarely on an individual basis, and then to raise standards high enough to effect a reduction in the number of immigrants admitted. This method of restriction would enable us to adjust both as to quality and quantity. Judging from the type of immigrant that has been coming in recent years, we need higher selective standards—that is the most important phase of the subject.

"These, I repeat, should be on an individual basis. If the Southern and Eastern European immigrants are inferior in physique, intelligence or any other criteria to Northern and Western Europeans, then those of them may be kept out by such selective tests. Here is a justifiable way of effecting restriction and not merely a device for arbitrary limitations of numbers which the Quota Law provides, without giving us any better selective standards than we now possess."

The Bishop made an appeal to the citizens of this section for a better comprehension of the Christ Spirit and the spirit of American and declared that there was no place in America for the Ku Klux Klan; according to reports so powerful was this appeal that for one hour and forty minutes there was not a stir eye in the audience. John Adams writing in the Christian Recorder declared that Bishop Carey's effort was superhuman".

Preston News Service

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 30—Wallace Powell, 18-year-old white burly lumber was found guilty 'of an assault on Miss Moselle Jones, aged 14 years, Tuesday in the Wake County Superior Court on a directed verdict of Judge Garland E. Midyette, who declared that Powell was guilty on his own statement. The Court reserved judgment in the case.

A large crowd of members of both races crowded in the court room and several well known white men testified a the good character of the Powell boy and asked the Court to give him another chance. The case came up in the Superior Court on the appeal from the City Court where Powell was sentenced to six months on the roads by Judge W. C. Harris.

Court Asks What Punishment Should Be Given

Judge Midyette asked attorneys for the State what punishment the Powell boy should be given. F. T. Bennett said that he thought that the boy should be given a suspended sentence and fined, while Attorney R. N. Simms, counsel for the prosecution did not agree with Bennett's recommendation. Simms declared that he thought the good Negroes of the State should be protected and that every step should be taken to see that their rights were observed. He said that he would be more inclined to recommend clemency if the Powell boy had not appealed from the City Court sentence after he had entered a plea of nolo contendere.

Powell Admitted He Attacked Girl

In court Powell admitted he attacked the girl one Sunday night when he was alone with her in the home of his brother-in-law, P. Gearhart, while the family was at church. He said that the girl fought him like a tiger and finally broke away from him and ran through the house. It was also brought out that the girl suffered several scratches about her arms and body during the scuffle with Powell.

Whites Make Strong Plea For Clemency

Strong pleas for clemency were made by Gearhart, and by Rev. Sylvester Hedgepeth, Baptist minister, who said that the boy's father, while thinking of the case had opened a hymn book at the hymn "God Will Take Care of You." Judge Midyette suggested that the Lord took care of those who took care of themselves.

This year, we are very anxious to familiarize the membership at large with the work of the Y. W. C. A. A very interesting program has been outlined for this purpose.

Although our membership is nine hundred and eighty, we feel that there are still a number of persons who are interested in the Association who have not been approached. We would appreciate it if any such person would call the Membership Secretary, Bomont 2569, or call at the office and place your membership with us.

Aside from our regular group work we are planning to have in this department tennis, basket ball and volley ball.

First Skating Party at the Y. W. C. A., Saturday, Oct. 3, from 8 to 10:30 p. m. Skating every Wednesday and Saturday nights thereafter. Good music and refreshments.

JUNIOR IDEAS

Edited By LORETTA E. OWENS

EDITOR'S NOTES

The Fate of the Disobedient Son (Chapter V)

With ruffled hair, soiled trousers, unlaced shoes and dislocated socks, John trod stubbornly down the street of "Big New York." Where he was going he did not know, but as he wandered he tried to think—but in vain.

When he at last became aware of his condition, he was standing before a mirror in the station of New York. Noting his unmanly appearance, he straightened himself up as best as possible and then bought his ticket for home.

Coatless, ashamed, almost penniless and disgraced, he rode mile after mile, each seeming longer than the other.

At last his journey was over and he was at last back in Festus. But how would he be greeted? Would his mother welcome him again or would she drive him from the door? Would his father welcome him as the "prodigal son" was welcomed, or would he slam the doors before his face?

"Pred, Fred, look dear," said Mrs. Hedgewood. "I think I see our son returning. But, oh, how he has changed."

"No, Matilda, dear, you must be dreaming. Surely after all these months of absence, and not a line or telephone call from him, John would never think of returning."

Still gazing out of the door, Mother Matilda forced herself to believe it was not John, but when he came up on the porch she was assured it was her son and none other.

With a hearty welcome he was again taken into his home, where he was treated as he was before he left the parents. He completed his studies in college and is now a successful lawyer, supporting his parents, a wife and a beautiful little girl and boy.

The End.

A GLANCE AT THE PROGRESS OF THE NEGRO RACE

Let us glance for a moment at the progress of the Negro race. If any one should ask you what race has made the greatest progress in the last fifty years, the answer would be the "Negro Race". For many years the Negro was held by the bonds of slavery and taught that he was intellectually inferior to the white man. This is not true. He is neither mentally nor intellectually inferior to any race. God did not create a an inferior being. There are races with inferior conditions and they may be black or white.

The Negro played no small part in the war. In 1775 the slave population was about 60,000. When the Revolutionary War began, the slave population of the thirteen colonies was about 500,000. 50,000 of these were in the North. The great desire to gain liberty for such a host of beings was sent to be despised. Thirty thousand from Virginia went to the British army. A real slave and Negro was the first in the colonies to shed blood for liberty. On March 5, 1770, the Boston Massacre occurred. A company of Negroes, under the command of Major Lawrence, fought through the war from Concord to the close of 1783, and in many of the most severe battles. There were 178,509 colored men regularly enlisted as soldiers in the Union army during the rebellion. The first enlistment of Negroes was by General Hunter of the Department of the South in June 1862. When the Union men began to see the worth of the Negro in the Confederate army in throwing up great works that were often almost impregnable, they began to complain that the Negro with his pick and spade was a greater, bitter foe to their own progress than the cannon ball of the enemy. Slowly, but surely public opinion changed. Congress prohibited the surrender of the Negroes to the rebels, the President issued his Emancipation Proclamation, and the Negroes were rapidly enlisted. The enlistment of Negroes in the northern army changed the public opinion so strongly endorsed in the North, affected the rebels who soon passed a measure for arming 200,000 Negroes themselves. The bravery and excellence of the Negro on the battle field soon broke down prejudice against the Negro on the part of the white officers, and it was on August 26, 1862, that the Secretary of War ordered General Rufus Saxon to proceed the Department of the South and organize 5,000 troops of African descent," which were to be designated for service in garrisons not in danger of attack by the enemy, to relieve white regiments whose terms of enlistment had expired. About 6,000 negroes were connected in different ways with the confederate army. At the reorganization of the state militia in 1868, there were forty-seven colored companies of infantry uniformed and equipped by themselves at a cost of not less than $25,000.

It is impossible to give in detail all the incidents showing the heroism of the Negro in war.

BAN "SIDEWALK CHARLESTON" IN NEW YORK

Associated Negro Press

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 30—The "Sidewalk Charleston" has been banned by the police department in this city. For the last two years, young boys have held audiences before places of amusement and made money by doing the Charleston dance. It is understood that the owners of the stores before which the youngsters did their stuff protested.

Dear Dr. Bousfield:

My recent dealings with your company in the death of my beloved husband, Peter Jackson, justifies me in stating that the services rendered by your representative in the payment of his claim were more than satisfactory.

My husband did not want to take his insurance as he felt at the time we did not have the money to spare but we made the sacrifice and took it out.

Notwithstanding he died very suddenly in Peoria, Illinois and I was here in St. Louis, the representative looked me up to see that I received the check for the amount due me in this $10000.00 claim. I have no hesitation in expressing my sincere thanks and heartily recommending the Liberty Life Insurance Company to be worthy of the respect and confidence of it's policy holders.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Sallie Jackson.

MUSICAL VAUDEVILLE AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON

Four musical acts are being presented in a vaudeville program at the Booker Washington Theatre this week. All are the class in their kind, and low, knock about comedy is being served in a seasoned vein. The show, as a whole is a delightful combination of melody with plenty of wholesome mirth interspersed.

Ella Goodloe and Co. are the entertainers. The "Co." consists of a man and woman, with the male member presiding at the piano. Their act creates an exclusive fever that does not subside until the curtain descends on the finale of the offering. After a musical introduction, Miss Goodloe sings "Sixpence Butterfly," and the pair follow with "Change Your Name To Mine." A piano selection is artistic and filled with fancy manipulations. "If You Hadn't Gone Away," and "Love Me the Way You Do," close an act that is classy and fit to feature an ordinary bill.

Bryce and Skinner in harmony duo are second. Miss Bryce has a well trained voice with a long, range and when she drops to contralto in singing "What'll I Do," the audience is willing to keep the show and let her sing all night. Mr. Skinner has a rich baritone voice and his "You Are In Love With Everyone But Me" makes a big hit. Three numbers, sung in duet, bring out the sweetness of vocal harmony. "They Are," "For a Rainy Day," "My Wonderful One," and "Follow the Swallow Back Home."

Hugh Turner, impersonating an old timer, is so characteristic in his work that one instantly "Sympathizes" the cripple in saying an "old man" yet happy in his home. Turner puts over a line of humorous talk about the smartness of the present generation of "kids" that would do justice to any monologist, but his forte is musical, original and novel. After he sings "The Bootleggers' Ball," he introduces an ordinary saw and a violin bow with which he renders "Melancholy" in an entrancing way that makes one believe there is music everywhere. His medley of choruses on a saxophone and his comic chorus antics spring another "Stop Sign" in the footlights of traffic.

Williams and Brown, Columbia Record Stars, reveal the kind of music that makes one always fall for another mysterious disk. You could enjoy blues and jazz easily without marring your fastidiousness if all you heard were like these. There are three in this sound, which include Carrie Coleman, pianist. Their vocal numbers include "Satisfied Blues," "Hoodoo Blues," "I'm Tired of Begging You To Stay," "Mr. Right," "Hard Hearted Blues," and "Double Crossing Daddy." Miss Coleman also gives a special on the piano which goes over nicely. Both singers have a distinctive personality that dominates their work and registers favor with the audience.

SUSIE SUTTON'S "BONTON REVUE" NEXT WEEK

Susie Sutton and her "Bonton Revue," will come to the Booker Washington Theatre next week. This is one of the best groups on the stage, and features the Novelty Four Quartette, Billy Gunn and a bevy of "Follow Me" dancing girls and boys.

SUSIE SUTTON

Miss Sutton, who is the center of attraction, is a most talented artist and she has surrounded herself with a company that compares with large troops we have seen featuring heavier. The show is of extraordinary quality and the musical comedy is interspersed with dramatic situations. There is harmony and novelty aplenty, clean wholesome comedy and peppy nifty steppers. The chorus is well drilled and pretty and consists of Mary Wells, Geneva Davis, Emily Hill, Maxine Lopez, Erline Lane, Mary Walker, Mae Walker and Ethel Pope. The costumes are new and up to the minute comedy is clean and the dancing varied and interesting. It is a show well worth seeing.

This is a real high class attraction and the management announces that there will be no advance in admission prices. Monday will be "Pay Day" as usual. The Booker should be crowded at every performance next week.

CHANGE IN "CHARLESTON" CONTEST AT THE BOOKER

The adult "Charleston" contest at the Booker Washington Theatre has been dropped in order to switch the Juveniles to Fridays. This was done because of their school days. The adults who have won in the contests to date are Wm. Kimbrough, 3114 Bell, Rhoda Berry, Kinloch Park, and Mary Preston, 3404 R-B. They will appear next Tuesday and receive their prizes. The children's contest will be switched to Fridays beginning this week.

BLUES SINGING CONTEST

TORONTO, Ont., Can., Sept. 30—An event of historical importance will occur in this city next Friday night when for the first time in Canada, a white and colored choir will give a joint recital; moreover, the event will occur in a colored church, as the choir of Rhodes Avenue Baptist Church will be the guests of the First Baptist Church choir in their choirchannel.

Music, Toronto is ago, for Rhodes Avenue choir is one of the city's finest musical organizations, and is under the direction of Prof. William Warner, are noted exponents of the works of the great Scottish composer Otto Sesquey, while the First Baptist choir, under the direction of Robert D. Ed-wards, specializes in the American type of Anthems, and their rendition of Spirituals twice gained them premier honors at the Canadian National Exhibition, hence the music lovers expect an interesting as well as a unique programme, which will include en-sembles. THE COMET

"Quo Vadis" will be the Comet Theatre attraction this Saturday. It tells a dramatic story, contains the pageantry and passion of Imperial Rome and a religious lesson, is a sensational and thrilling spectacle, and picturizes historical events. Scenes of the early Christians being buried to the lions in the Arena by the tyrant Nero, to hide his own crimes, are vividly re-enacted.

"The Overland Limited" a spectacular railroad drama, will be presented on Sunday.

"The Ten Commandments" will be presented on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Red Sea and San Francisco are about five thousand miles apart. The Israelites led by Moses on their exodus from Egypt are separated by about forty centuries from Sunday afternoon jazz dancing of today. Yet, Cecil B. DeMille has managed to put them together convincingly in this modern production.

The story opens on a devoute mother driving one of her two sons from home because he will not "apologize to God" for what she believes sacrilege. The son goes out into the world, not bitterly, but boyishly exultant, to smash every commandment. A gorgeous Biblical episode, done in natural colors, is smashed by such popular players as Estelle Taylor, Theodore Roberts, James Neill, Charles de Roche and Lawson Butt.

A big colored picture "Regeneration" will be presented on Thursday and Friday. It tells of the eternal battle of the sexes, then the regeneration of two souls cast upon a desert island.

THE RETINA

The Retina will present Harry Carey in "The Texas Trail," on Saturday. "A Farewell Revue" with twelve Colored Artists will be offered the Skydome on Sunday.

Takima Sanutt will be seen in "Romance and Rustlers" on Sunday. "The White Desert" on Monday, and Thunder, the wonderful dog, in "His Master's Voice" on Tuesday, are big features.

"The Goose Woman" will be the Thursday attraction. The story concerns the murder of a man and the false statement of a former opera singer who craves publicity. Her statement involves her son and he is freed only through her complete confession as to who she is and with the discovery of the real murderer. Louise Dresser plays the title role while the love interest is furnished by Jack Pickford and Constance Bennett.

Milton Sills in "The Sea Hawk" will be shown next Friday.

THE STAR

"Charley's Aunt" will be shown at the Star Theatre this Saturday. Sid Chaplin is the star in this famous comedy. It is from the famous old stage farce which has been running steadily for thirty-three years, so you see it goes back farther than Christie, even, in getting the laughs. It is the one stage farce which has stood the test of time.

Reginald Denny in "California Straight Ahead" will be the Sunday attraction. It is one of the most highly entertaining and diverting comedies of the year, in which Denny pilots a specially built bungalow on wheels to California, goes through storms, a circus runaway, an elopement and an automobile race.

Art Acord in "The Circus Cyclone" on Monday. Josie Sedwick, in "The Outlaw's Daughter," and Fred Thomas in "North of Nevada" on Tuesday; Jack Hoxie in "Rustin' Through," and a new action serial, "Wild West" with Jack Mulhall and Helen Ferguson, on Wednesday, are all special attractions.

"The Mystic" will be shown next Thursday and Friday. Aileen Pringle is the featured star, supported by Conway Tearle. It is a thrilling melodramatic expose of the machinations of fake mediums in league with banded crooks who prey on grief-stricken people hysterically seeking communication with dead relatives and friends. It is a colorful tale founded on a recent expose of fake mediums and clairvoyants in California. The story opens in Hungary, where a young American crook discovers a beautiful Gypsy medium, whom he knows is a faker. Her work so charms him that he induces her to come to America and rob a rich American girl of a fortune in jewels and bonds. The love intrest is found in the romance which develops between the crook and the girl.

THE JESTAMERE

William Fairbanks and Paulin Garon in "Fighting Youth" will be the Jestamere Theatre feature this Saturday.

Blanch Sweet, Ronald Colman and Lew Cody are the stars in "The Sporting Venus" on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Miss Sweet appears as Lady Gwendolyn Grayle, who is loved by Donald McAllen, a young Scotchman studying to be a physician. The difference in their stations makes it impossible for him to speak his love. Lady Grayle's father, invites Prince Carlos of Portugal to his home, and the prince, faced with the possibility of having to marry a silly old dowager Countess, is delighted to find love to pretty Gwendolyn. With that as a premise, the story moves along at express speed, and works up to a climax of great power.

"The Lost World" will be the attraction on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adopted from Conan Doyle's famous novel of adventure. It is a superfeature of thrill, with a cast including Bessie Love, Lewis Stone, Lloyd Hughes, Wallace Beery, Alma Bennett, Virginia Brown Faire, Arthur Hoyt, Bull Montana, Margaret McWade, Finch Smiles and Jules Cowles. The scenes are laid in the South American jungles. The fights between prehistoric monsters, the forest fire in which 30 dinosaurs are driven before the flames and the encounters of the human actors with these appalling beasts hold the spectator in a thrall. The spell is not broken until the thrilling scene in which a captive dinosaur breaks loose in the streets of London, trampling people and buildings under its mountainous bulk, to disappear finally in the waters of the Thames.

THE CRITERION

"The Lucky Horseshoe," with Tom Mix, Tony and a strong cast, will be the Criterion Theatre special this Sunday. It is the story of a western ranch man who almost loses the girl he loves because he is too bashful to tell her he loves her before she leaves to go abroad and too much of a sportsman to say anything after she has returned to the ranch engaged to another man. There are thrills galore inter-mixed with real comedy.

Dorothy Devore and Herbert Rawlinson will be seen in "The Tomboy" on Monday. It tells the story, whereby a young girl known as the village tomboy, thwarted the plans of a big criminal ring, and was responsible for the capture of the entire crew. The adventures of the girl are a series of highly dramatic episodes, and the tomboy takes all kinds of chances in thrilling situations to trail and finally capture the leader and his henchmen.

"Love Night Ship" and "Unmarried Wives" will be feature on Wednesday.

"Lightin'" will be the Thursday attraction. It is from the play that broke the world's record.

THE VENUS

Lon Chaney, Mae Busch and Matt Moore are featured in "The Unholy Three" at the Venus Theatre on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The story is a most unusual one and deals with a trio of freaks—a giant, a midget and a ventriloquist—who forsake their life in a dime museum to pursue a career of robbery and murder. The trio cover up their misdeeds by running a bird and animal store, and succeed in escaping detection after each crime until two of them murder a wealthy club man while looting his home. After shifting the blame on another, they flee to the mountains. Fearful of the strength and cunning of his confederates, the ventriloquist brings a powerful gorilla with him for protection. How the gorilla fulfills his mission, how the innocent culprit is defended by the agency of an unknown voice at the trial, how the mystery is cleared up brings the picture to a thrilling satisfying end.

Florence Vidor and Edward Horton will be seen in "Marry Me" on Wednesday. The attractions for Thursday and Friday will be, "Lost, a Wife" and "The Bandit's Baby."

When taxes grow, democracy does not.

THE OLYMPIA

"The Necessary Evil," a drama of tangled love, and "The Gold Trap," a Western will be features at the Olympia Theatre this Saturday.

"Lightin'" will be shown on Sunday and Monday. There are no gigantic, spectacular highlights to this production. What strength it possesses is due to the dramatic qualities of the piece. The play had them, and broke world's records for long and successful showings; the picture likewise has them, and therefore is bound to establish itself in an enviable position. Madge Bellamy, Wallace McDonald, J. Farrell MacDonald, Ethel Clayton, Richard Travers, Edythe Chapman, Brandon Hurst and Otis Harlan fill the feature roles.

Anna Q. Nilsson is featured in "One Way Street" on Wednesday.

The attraction for Thursday and Friday will be "Havoc." It is a great war drama, although it is not exclusively devoted to the battlefields. In fact, most of the biggest moments in the play are staged in a London night club, where an unscrupulous woman demonstrates her ability to play more ace with men's souls than the enemy's guns can. Among the many interesting favorites in the cast will be seen George O'Brien, Madge Bellamy, Margaret Livingston, Walter McGrail, David Butler and Harrey Clark.

THE CASINO

Tom Mix and an all star cast in "Foreman of Bar Z" will be the Casino attraction this Saturday.

Lorraine of the Lions" will be shown on Sunday and Monday. It is a story of the South Sea Jungles. The girl is shipwrecked on a desert isle at the age of seven. Here she grows up with wild beasts as her only companions until she is rescued twelve years later. The girl's experiences on the South Seas Island with her galaxy of pets including twenty lions, two tigers, a gorilla and thirty monkeys, make an interesting narrative. Norman Kerry plays the part of the girl's lover while Patsy Ruth Miller takes the title role.

Other features for the week will be "The Pell Street Mystery" on Tuesday; "The Shock Punch" on Wednesday; "A Soul's Awakening" on Thursday, and "Marry Me" on next Friday.

THE LINCOLN

Anna Q. Nilsson, Ben Lyons and Marjorie Daw are the stars in "One Way Street," at the Lincoln Theatre this Saturday. It is a gripping story of a woman's attempt to thwart old age and vanishing beauty. The theme is intriguing and the picture is a succession of highly dramatic episodes.

"Night Life of New York" will be the Sunday attraction. It is a comedy romance of night clubs, gunfights, fast races and flirting girls.

"Fine Clothes" will be presented on Monday; "The Cracker-Jack" on Tuesday; "The Texas Trail" on Wednesday; "Marry Me" on Thursday, and "The Necessary Evil," also "Spook Ranch" next Friday.

THE ROOSEVELT

The Roosevelt Theatre will present Jack Hoxie in "The Sign of the Cactus" on Sunday. Airship Webb's "Bobbed Hair, Brown Skin Co." will be the stage attraction. There are eight performers in the cast, and a good tuneful, peppy, humorous musical comedy in the production. A minstrel first part is featured.

Norma Shearer is the star in "A Slave of Fashion," the feature for Monday and Tuesday. It's the story of a small town girl who masquerades as a bachelor's wife and is on the verge of exposure. How the bachelor "husband" aggravates and then saves her from the embarrassing position makes the story quite an interesting and entertaining one.

Amateur Vaudeville will be presented on Wednesday, and an all-colored vaudeville on Friday.

DREAM PREVENTS LOSS OF $1000 IN A RUSE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30—The revelations of a dream probably prevented John S. White, a prosperous colored second hand dealer of this city, from losing $1000 in clever ruse staged by a pair of would by highwaymen.

Friday night White had a dream that a large squad of policemen were guarding him against robbers. All went well and the dream was forgotten until Saturday evening, when a man entered his store and engaged him in conversation. Meanwhile a second man came along and found a wallet near the store entrance.

The first man saw the stunt and threatened to call the police, if the contents were not divided between him and White.

The finder agreed. But the purse, he said, contained $150 in large bills. He went to get the bills changed.

When he came back he declared the purse had also been found to contain a $2000 check which his thug had cashed, giving him two $1000 bills. He asked White to change one of the large bills.

White was loathe to his safe to open it and get the change, but suddenly he remembered the dream he had had the night before, whereon he called an officer. The men fled, leaving a purse stuffed with stage bills.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT FOR SAID "RAILROADED" YOUTH

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 30—An appeal has been filed in the Supreme Court for a new trial for Troy Carr, 17, who is confined in the Lewis County farm, following his inability to pay a fine of $500 handed down by Judge Jim Gabbert, who convicted him on a charge of shooting to the peace in a row precipited by a white girl.

Carr's court originations and his denial to the charges that he killed the child resulted in a refusal of the courts to judge Carr's plea. Johnson court where the decision of the jury court was affirmed. It was decided to take the case to the Supreme Court of appeals.

SLAVERY IN COLUMBIA

BOGOTA, Colombia, Sept. 30—Confirmation has been received of a report that a formal state of slavery exists in the Indian tribes of Meta and Vichada regions of the Orinoco River basin, bordering on the Guiana peninsula of Venezuela, which projects into the Caribbean Sea.

The Indians, the report said, were being hunted with dogs like wild animals and had received such a fear of white men that they were selling their children for the ransom or hire to the raiders.

Congress is taking steps to remedy the situation.

BOY, 14, CONFESSES TO FIVE BURGLARIES

Lee Akers, 14 years old, 3062 Division street, was arrested last Thursday morning after attempting to rob the Grand Inn, a Chinese Restaurant at 816 North Grand boulevard. Police say the South had a 25-caliber automatic pistol, a gold watch and $25 in cash in his possession. It is also alleged the boy confessed to five burglaries committed within the last 90 days, in which he stole $128.50 and quantities of candy and chewing gum. Akers escaped from jail in East St. Louis a month ago where he was sentenced for robbing a confectionery store on the Eastside.

MAN KILLED; BROTHER-IN-LAW

Abraham Stanley, 54, of 1216 North Second street, was shot and instantly killed by his brother-in-law, Isaiah Young, 45, of the same address, following an argument between Stanley and Mrs. Mary, at 12:45 p.m. Sunday.

Young told policemen Stanley accused his wife of taking $4.15 from a pocket book. In the argument that ensued, Young said, he tried to get his pocketbook, and that Stanley attacked him with a knife. Young then fired two shots from a shotgun. He and Stanley's wife were held for investigation.

Allen Jenkins, 1238 North Ninth street, was held for the grand jury on a verdict of homicide by a Coroner's jury Monday at the inquest into the death of George Hill, an Italian of 1405 North Ninth street, who died from a gunshot wound in the City Hospital Sunday. Testimony showed that Grossgelt had interfered in an argument between his brother, Nick Grossgelt, and Jenkins at Nick's grocery store at 1245 North Ninth street and that Jenkins shot him.

Jenkins, who surrendered after the shooting, stated that he had shot in self-defense when the two Italians had bulldozed him and threatened his life. The shooting resulted from an argument over an illegal spit Jenkins owned one of the Italians.

GETS SEVEN YEARS FOR STICKING-UP CASHIER

Richard Syker, 25, 5436 Laclede avenue, was sentenced to seven years in the State Penitentiary by Circuit Judge Landwehr, for his part in the holdup of Joseph Feldin jr. bookkeeper at 2833 Locust street, on September 5, when two other men who were with Syker escaped with $1,226.

Syker pleaded guilty, but Samuel Matthews, indicted with Syker for the crime, demanded a trial, pleading not guilty. His case had not been set.

WOULD-BE LYNCHERS TO FACE TRIAL

Associated Negro Press

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 30—Solicitor J. E. Swain has made the announcement that those persons arrested charged with participating in the action of 4 mob which entered the county jail here on Saturday night with the intention of lynching Alvin Mansel, who was charged with a criminal attack on a white woman, would be compelled to face trial. The four men, who have been placed under arrest attempting to escape, but their escape was frustrated by the guards.

Young Mansel, who has been carried to Charlotte for safe-keeping by Sheriff Mitchell, is expected to come up for trial at a special term of court.

KLAN TRIED TO DESTROY ASSOCIATION OF RACES

Associated Negro Press

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 30—The Ku Klux Klan seems determined to break up association between white and colored people, it seems, although it says nothing about the association of white men with colored women. Within the past two weeks three men have been taken from the City Prison farm, carried a few miles from town and emasculated. The first incident happened last Thursday afternoon at about three p. m. when Isaac Bowens and Will Green, both negroes, were taken from the guard at the Farm and carried away by the mob of unmasked men. The second case, taking of Eugene Adams last Saturday night, and the taking of two white women who were tarred and feathered.

Isaac Bowens, worked at the De Soto hotel, and Will Green was employed at the St. Charles Hotel across the street. Bowens said three came and took them from the guard, whom they held up.

The two men were operated upon, cotton saturated with an indescribable material stuck over their mouths and burned and an acid poured over their bodies. Afterward they were thrown in a swamp and had to stay there with water up to their necks. They were slowly a colored settlement by a white man after they had found their way out of the swamp. Police did not re-arrest them after they reached the city but "advised" them to leave town as it would not be safe for them. Bowens is married and had not been in the city a month, coming here from Hot Springs, where he spent the season. Members of the Race saw to it that he did not want while he was ill. Green was shipped out of town by white persons.

Eugene Adams, the third victim was told by the mob that they were taking "special pains with him," and that he was operated upon, given a coat of tar and feathers, his ear clipped and forehead marked. He was told to advertise the "fact" that no more Negroes would bother white women or he would be molested again. He was taken to the county hospital where he is improving. These constitute the most atrocious crimes ever committed in Duval County and police are doing nothing to apprehend the guilty ones.

Two white women were tarred and feathered and brought to Laura and Adams Streets in the heart of the city without anything on but a gunny sack and put out on an automobile.

Race people here are convinced that crime is confined to a class; that only those of the rougher element are involved in the crimes which are committed, but they are grieved because these matters give the whole town a bad name.

CRIME WAVE IN BIRMINGHAM

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 30—(By the Associated Negro Press)—One dead, five suffering from knife and gunshot wounds, one facing a charge of murder, and one a charge of assault with intent to kill is the result of a week-end crime wave in this city in the colored section. Roland Copeland was stabbed to death with an ice pick by Nolan Zegler. Shelly McCloud was shot and seriously wounded by Beansie Blake following a quarrel; Maggie Smith was shot to death by a woman known only as Beulah; and Charles Larsen was shot by Robert James. The scenes of the disorders were in widely scattered sections of the city, and all occurred within a few hours of each other. The exceeding warm weather of the past few weeks, and the large supply of bootleg whiskey is said to be responsible in a large measure for the disorder.

AGED MAN MISSING

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 30 (By The Associated Negro Press) Lee Blackburn, aged 60 years, is missing from his home, this city. He is a colored man with gray hair and moustache, not weighing more than 145 pounds. It is thought that he is losing his mind, and it is said he goes to sleep wherever he stops. When last seen, he was near the B. & O. Station, a few minutes before a train left for the north.

HAMPTON INSTITUTE LIBRARY SCHOOL FOR MEN AND WOMEN

(By The Associated Negro Press)
HAMPTON, Va., Sept. 30.—To the number of library schools already established there has been added one more—Hampton Institute Library School, which will open this fall. It offers one year of professional study to men and women who have completed a year of collegiate work. Provision is made for a few special students who may offer experience in teaching or in library work, as a partial equivalent of the freshman year in college.

Several of the students already accepted for this year's class are the recipients of scholarship from the General Education Board.

There is a marked increase, in recent years, in the opportunities open to both men and women, as librarians of college and normal schools, and as assistants in the branch libraries of city systems.

KLAN INSPIRES RESIDENTIAL SEGREGATION

(By The Associated Negro Press)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 30—According to speakers at a mass meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People held in the Abyssinian Baptist Church; the attacks on Negroes who have sought to improve their living conditions in Detroit, and New York are inspired by the Ku Klux Klan. Samuel Brownie, the Staten Island postman who has received threats from the Klan, was the principal speaker. Walter White, assistant secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., made the charge after investigation that the Detroit police force was honeycombed with Klansmen.

GROVES ESTATE GOES TO WIDOW

Associated Negro Press

KANSAS CITY, Kans., Sept. 30—The will of the late Junius "C" Groves, nationally known "Potato King", bequeaths his $500,000 estate to his widow and eleven children. It was filed here for probate Saturday. Mrs. Groves and C. D. Brokaw, president of the Commercial National Bank of this city, are named as executors. A clause in Mr. Groves' will requested that the children pool their interests for the purpose of cultivating the lands and increasing their joint holdings and profits.

GARVEY'S NEW WORK, FOLLOWERS QUARREL

Associated Negro Press

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Dissension has arisen in the ranks of the Universal Negro Improvement Association here, due to the appointment by Garvey, from his position in the Atlanta Prison of Dr. J. J. Peters, New Orleans, as head of the local body of the organization, superseding and deposing G. A. Weston. Weston and his group stand up and abetted by one of the most powerful of the local members, James A. Brown, have questioned the right of Garvey to function from his prison cell, and are not disposed to obey him. A meeting was called for last Monday night at which it was expected that the difficulty would be settled. It was not. Weston is holding the position as president of the local group, while Peters has the title.

OUST SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT IN NEW ORLEANS

Associated Negro Press

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 30.—Although officially announced as a "leave of absence without pay for two years," colored citizens of this city are inclined to the belief that the departure of Prof. S. S. Taylor, erstwhile supervisor of colored schools, is actually a dismissal and means the abolition of the position of supervisor. The leave of absence explanation was given by Asst. Superintendent of Schools, August V. Dalche. A number of the most prominent teachers in the schools have resigned, including Prof. T. Theodore Tatum, a vice president; O. C. W. Taylor, Prof. Albert Edwards, a principal, and the Misses Rosa McCabe, Beulah Bell, Allie B. St. Cyr, Ruby Davis, and Hattie Davage. Prof. Springins is still in the harness.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 30—Figures by the Afro-American of this city show that the delegates at the recent National convention ate more than 10,000 chickens, 100,000 pounds of veal, lamb, and beef, 500,00 loaves of bread, enough ice cream to make a mountain higher than man has ever climbed, and drank enough soft drings to make a small river.

NO NEGRO PRISONERS

GADSDEN, Ala., Sept. 30—For the first time since 1868 the Etowah County jail has not a colored prisoner behind its bars, which is considered a remarkable fact owing to the large colored population in this vicinity.

JUST A PENNY

By Thos Atkins

Just a penny and as such
Cannot amount or matter much;
Ere deeper commercial power.
That changes so with every hour.

Just a penny and the thrilling,
Of the spirit that is willing;
To hold on and not forget it,
A penny's worth and not regret it.

Just a penny? As he sat,
Breathing, sighing, what of that?
'Tis far beyond ore virtue lies,
That ever lives and never dies.

Just a penny and ah! what bearing,
Like the sun-rays warming, streaming;
Where 'tis pleasure deeper still
Just a penny cannot fill.

GEORGIA'S INHUMANITY—MISSISSIPPI'S BARBARISM

The headhunters of African fame nor the cannibals of Borneo were never more inhuman or barbaric than the supposed civilized and Christianized white men—men of the supposed "Superior Race", —who formed the mobs in Georgia, and with a club, beat to death an insane inmate of the state insane asylum; and those of Mississippi who burned a human being to death.

All the laws of the world, both sacred and profane, common or written, excuse insane persons of responsibility. Insanity has become the one great refuge for many criminals in this country for the law holds that an insane person is irresponsible for their acts.

This man in Georgia was adjudged insane and was an inmate of the asylum. Because of the criminal negligence of some of the [illegible] given the proper care and attention which he should have had by virtue of his being an inmate of this place. As a result of this carelessness, this insane man clubbed one of the nurses to death. This man was not responsible but the careless officers were and to make matters worse, these officers permitted a few men to come into their institution and take therefrom, an insane inmate, whom they bound to, a tree and clubbed to death in pure inhuman, brutish and barbaric style.

We might ask why should there be white officers and nurses over Negroes in Georgia, where race prejudice is at its height? How can white people in Georgia, condescend to be the servants of Colored people in the state institutions? There is but one answer, the supposed power and the almighty dollar. Everyone is aware of the fact that a prejudiced Georgia cracker, will not render the service to a colored inmate of a state institution for which he or she is paid. Because of this lack of proper service, this nurse lost her life and this terrible crime against God and humanity was committed by this mob.

By comparison: About the same time the Georgia mob killed this helpless, insane human being; a very grave triple crime was committed in the State of New Jersey. A young white man kidnaped a six year old girl, raped her and then killed her and killed a colored taxi driver to get his car in which to escape. The mob spirit was aroused against the colored taxi driver. When the criminal was found to be a young white man, the first effort was to produce an excuse for him. It was said that he had been an inmate of an insane asylum some years ago. He was therefore absolved of the responsibility for the triple crime. In Georgia an inmate of an insane asylum is held responsible for a clubbing and summarily dealt with by a blood-thirsty mob. Why the difference in New Jersey and Georgia?

It will be remembered that some years ago, a mob of Georgians entered the state penitentiary and took therefrom, one Leo Frank, a Jew and lynched him. These demonstrations of lawlessness against their own state institutions, tell the world that Georgia crackers have no regard for their own laws, nor respect to their own state institutions, nor for human rights, and therefore, no regard for the Constitution of the United States, for it is supposed to guarantee human rights. Can we, in the face of these acts, hope that our civilization and vaunted Christianity will ever reach the minds and hearts of such people?

In Mississippi, the mob selected Sunday for its barbaric performance. When we remember that Mississippi is so highly civilized and thoroughly Christianized the state will not permit the game of baseball to be played in its confines on Sunday, we cannot help but wonder at their psychology and Christianity, which prefers the uplifting, inspiring, satisfying and law defying entertainment of burning a human being at the stake, to playing baseball or even going to church on Sunday. They left their Sunday service to, tie a human being to an iron stake which they drove in the ground for the purpose, piled wood around him and after saturating the body with oil, set fire to it, then secured vantage points to watch the writhing agony of a fellow man as he tries to get away from the consuming flames. He even begs for mercy and these civilized men only mock him. What a great stretch of imagination is needed to call these barbaric civilized Christians. No bunch of cannibals could have been more gleeful around the roasting of their victim than were these Mississippians. While they did not eat their victim, but as soon as the flames had spent their fury and the smoldering embers cooled sufficiently, the mob mad a rush for the charred corpse of their victim and grabbing like human hyenas, secured bits of this charred body and departed, whether to eat, we do not know.

HAIRDRESSERS' MISTAKE

At a meeting of some of the hairdressers at the Metropolitan Church, last Thursday night, the officers of the organization refused to allow Dr. F. W. Wiseman to speak or give his interpretation of the law as it affects the hairdressers and cosmeticians.

We believe that these leaders made a very great mistake by so doing, and one that will hurt their cause in the future.

Dr. Wiseman, as the husband of Mrs. Wiseman, who is president of the Hairdressers' Board, could have thrown a great deal of light on the subject. He could have, and was ready to tell them in open meeting just how the board would interpret the law, and explain everything about the law from the Boards' viewpoint. They would have had the opportunity of asking any questions in open meeting and the privilege of hearing the answers; the privilege of getting first hand information at close range. Not hear-sayings, but mouth to ear statements before a hundred witnesses. There were many present who were desirous of hearing the explanation by Dr. Wiseman, but the leaders said "No." This looked rather suspicious.

Of course, Hugh Wagner, attorney, who has his mind fixed on that $3,000 fee, tells them he can win. Certainly he would tell them that; that's his job. But the suspicion lies in their refusal to hear what was in the mind of the Board, with which they must, in the end, deal.

In the meanwhile, much criticism is being circulated because these women leaders in the movement have refused to employ a colored attorney in the case, consistency being cited as an object lesson.

WE DOUBT THE WISDOM OF SUCH AN ACT

At the recent National Baptist Convention held at Baltimore, resolutions were passed endorsing the plan of the War Committee to erect a memorial to the colored soldiers who have fought in all of the wars of the Republic.

We seriously doubt the wisdom of such an endorsement because of its far-reaching effects along the line of general segregation. We can see the wisdom of a war monument to soldiers, all soldiers in the army. Then too, we can see it is proper to erect monuments to all soldiers, be they black or white, for special deeds of heroism and bravery, just as a soldier wins the Distinguished Service Cross, etc.

If the nation is to erect a memorial to the soldiers of all the wars, let it be the one memorial hall, and in this hall, let there be special mention made of noble and heroic deeds by all those who have won special honors, be they black or white. This, to our mind, is the only proper way to memorialize the soldiers of the U. S. without discrimination.

ANOTHER WAVE OF RACE FRICTION

The news reports of the past week have included information concerning race friction and riots arising out of the housing situation in Detroit, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; the lynching of another Negro in Mississippi, the details of the aftermath of the recent dynamiting of Negro homes in Southeast Missouri, the clubbing to death of an insane Negro youth in Georgia, the killing of Judge H. A. Roscoe issuing a temporary injunction denying Negroes the right to occupy property on Cote Brilliante Avenue, and the press has carried the news of the heroic attempt of George Hall, a colored janitor in an apartment at 522 W. 183rd street, New York City, in saving the life of a nine year old white girl who had started the elevator.

In Detroit, serious riots resulted in the killing of white members of the mob and wounding of others. In Philadelphia, ten Negroes and several police were hurt following a shot fired by a colored man, to disperse a mob gathered about his home. In Pittsburg, a riot was fired into the ground to frighten white vandals menacing the home of a highly respected colored family while the husband was away. The wife fired a shot to protect herself and two children.

Just where all of these indications of race friction will end remains to be seen. However, there is the distinct lesson in the whole situation which ought to be heeded in St. Louis. The Cote Brilliante injunction is the thin edge of a wedge, which if allowed to be unchallenged might mean the practical segregation of Negroes in the territory already occupied, due to the fact that most of the territory West of Taylor avenue is now organized under this segregation by block agreement system. While it is true that the Curtis case in Washington which is now before the Supreme Court may practically establish the constitutionality of this type of block agreement, it is also true that the continued publicity of such suits is making for public opinion, increasing unfavorably to the Negro, and detrimental to the bettering of race relations in St. Louis.

The situation which gives rise to such agreements is the desire of whites on one side to maintain exclusively residential sections, and on the other hand a perfectly natural and legitimate desire of colored people to obtain in a larger measure adequate housing facilities which allow for a greater degree of health, happiness and wholesome environments for their environment for their families.

The casual observer can readily see that there is a third factor in the situation, namely, the seeming desire of white real estate interests to control rental and purchase values in Negro neighborhoods by confining their housing facilities to a very restricted and highly congested limits. This situation by no means has been helped by the Real Estate Exchange "encircling" the territory east of Grand boulevard to occupancy by colored. If the Cote Brilliante injunction decision is a criterion of what we are to expect, then the future seems rather cloudy for the average individual colored man who wants to improve his housing conditions.

The present situation emphasizes strongly the need for the development of financial institutions within our group which will help to finance housing projects and enable prospective buyers to secure a greater degree of safety for future investments.

Further, in view of the problems arising out of the Cote Brilliante situation the chances taken by individuals, at least under the present injunction ruling of purchasing property, the title of which is in any way "clouded" by one of the restrictive agreements is a dangerous procedure. It seems wise at this time to urge prospective buyers not to become financially involved in such property until decision has been handed down by the Supreme Court determining the constitutionality of such restrictive contracts.

In the meantime let us all bear in mind the results of friction from the housing situation in other cities in the past, as well as the previous experience in our own city and govern ourselves by the lesson we have learned therefrom.

"NOT YET EMERGED FROM BARBARISM" SAYS GEORGIA PAPER

Associated Negro Press

MACON, Ga., Sept. 30—The Macon Telegraph, leading daily paper of this city commenting editorially on recent lynchings, says:

"We have not yet emerged from the age of barbarism. Unless there comes out of these crimes and all other crimes in which men take the laws under which we live into their own hands, the swift and sure punishment that should come, we cannot really claim to be civilized. We have the veneer of civilization and the coatings of culture and the luxuries of modern invention, but if we consider these crimes against society we have the primal instincts of the brute and the savage."

NEGRO FARMERS FEAR POISON

Associated Negro Press

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 30—Authorities are investigating the report that an attempt has been made to poison the family of Henry Bethea, a Negro farmer near this city, by the placing of arsenic of lead in the well from which the family obtain their drinking water. The husband, wife, and three children are in a critical condition. Many of the Negroes in that section of the state are in a panic fearing that attempts might be made on their lives.

"Not Alms, But Opportunity"

The well known slogan of the Urban League is "Not alms, but opportunity" in a number of instances, the reality of such a slogan has been very noteworthy. Quite often an opportunity may be small to begin with, but possibilities are often much greater. In such connection, we should like to call attention to the achievement of a St. Louis young lady who, when given an opportunity, made good of "It and on starting with a job has virtually forced her way into a coveted position.

Miss Gladys Williams, 4280-W. St. Ferdinand, was one of the first to answer the call when Chester Knitting Mill was opened to colored girls and the Urban League was furnishing them with help. After a short time, she became assistant forelady. With the closing of the plant, which came with the 1923 depression, Miss Williams came back to the League and highly recommended for her efficient service.

During the month of August 1924, through the kindness of Mr. Chas. Turpin, she was put in touch with one of the local dress manufacturers, requesting a girl to do pressing. Remembering Miss Williams as an excellent and reliable worker, Miss Urban League did not hesitate to recommend her to the firm in need of help. It was an experiment because she was the first colored girl to go into the store. In December she was promoted to shipping clerk. February 1925, she became assistant order clerk. In June 1925, Miss Williams was given an extended vacation with pay and upon her return was promoted to order clerk. She now does all the local buying for the firm for which she works.

In addition to making good of her opportunities, each position she has vacated for promotion has been filled by other colored girls of her choice. Her influence has been felt outside of the Chas. Jean Dresses Inc, the firm by which she is employed, and other firms have left her to choose competent colored help. Big things, we call it, from meager opportunities. The Urban League stands for service to both employer and employee.

For Preston News Service

Negro social workers are vitally interested in the coming of Dr. Edward M. Clopper from the Council of Social Agencies in Cincinnati, O., to assume the direction of the Federation of Social Agencies in Pittsburgh on October 1.

The Federation of Social Agencies in Pittsburgh has been organized with a great deal of difficulty because of misunderstandings between the rival camps of the older social agencies in Pittsburgh. It is, indeed, significant that they have now reached the point of employing an executive to direct the development of social work throughout the city.

Negroes are interested in this step as it will mean that all the Negro social and welfare institutions and agencies will be subjected to a control that will mean the most intelligent and unselfish service being rendered for such institutions and agencies or they will be closed up. It further means that the worthy institutions among Negroes will be adequately and promptly supported and those found to be unworthy—no matter how flourishing now,— will most likely be eliminated.

Pittsburgh Negroes should be especially interested in the kind of social policies Dr. Clopper will bring from Cincinnati and institute in Pittsburgh. In order to have their points considered, the Negroes of Pittsburgh must take a larger share in the support of those institutions they deem worthy. In the last analysis, the Negroes of any city receive the largest amount of benefits from social agencies in most cities, and therefore should be on the alert to see that they get their full share in Pittsburgh.

Negroes who constantly complain about not having a chance in various skilled and semi-skilled industries should visit some of the big technical schools of the country at opening time (granting the difficulty Negroes have to enter) and note the few young Negroes who seek admission. Of the thousands of youth entering these technical schools one sees less that one-half of one percent Negro youth entering. But you find plenty of them seeking entrance in the large medical, dental and law schools.

I often wonder how these professional aspirants expect to eke out an existence in the future if this sort of thing keeps on for a few more years. From whom will their fees come? It appears that the race is tending to become top heavy professional.

More of our youth should go into these technical schools and prepare themselves to become producers. Not consumers. After graduation seek some kind of employment in an industrial concern along the line of their training. Once on the pay roll, make friends with white employees there. Eventually the race will get a stronger foothold in the skilled and semi-skilled industries of America.

There is a lot of bunk advanced that the white employer owes us a chance on account of our constitutional rights, etc. The employer don't owe untrained workers anything. He is better off when he keeps them out of his establishment. First quality to fill the job, then seek it. What we need is more trained men in skilled and semi-skilled industries. If qualified then seek the job. Qualify, and stop complaining until fitted to hold a job when you get it.

MAKING EFFORTS TO PRESERVE OLD RACE MELODIES

Old Plantation Songs Fastly Disappearing With Migration Of Negroes To The North.

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Sept. 30—The New South is fast losing one of the cherished traditions of the Old South —the "spirituals" and unmatched harmony in the song of the Negro.

Industrial progress is believed by music critics to be largely responsible for the changed conditions among the race. The large plantations of Dixie at one time were the homes of the South's chief Negro musicians.

"Its different now. The best musicians of the race are to be found in the cities and centers of population. But many of these who have become urban citizens have acquired cultural attainments which have detracted from the Negro song.

Big cotton farms in the far South have been cut up into many smaller tracts. The cotton planter who kept [illegible] can't be found. His Negro tenants have found more profitable employment in the cities—in the factories, on the highways, in structural work.

With the passing of farm help of olden-time harmony is passing. One must journey far into Alabama to find Negro singing which even approximates the harmony that once existed over the entire South.

Tuskegee Institute is making serious effort to preserve for both the Negro and America the spirit of song originated by the Negro. The institute has produced some of the finest singers. During the last college year, its glee club presented an interpretation of the Negro songs of other days which was described as being as nearly perfect as reproduction could be made. Fisk and Hampton likewise have given much along similar lines of endeavor as the instance of leaders of both races.

Those who have never heard the real cotton-patch harmony can scarcely imagine it. The appreciation of music lovers that this art is about to pass. Fifty colored persons, of varied ages, in one cotton field are capable of producing an impromptu program of song, chant, whistling and chatter that can be found nowhere else on the globe, in the opinion of music critics who have traveled far to hear the music in its original setting.

The song is usually one which was never written. It may or may not be one already worked out and familiar to those participating. A Negro does not have to "know" a song to join with his fellows in singing it. Every such group has a "leader." This person is nearly always a man. His "strikes" his key—and the group is off.

The same song may be sung for an hour, or all day. It never becomes monotonous because of its variations. The present day jazz artist boasts of his "rhythm-shop." He knows nothing of "rhythm" or "jazz" and "clowns." The Negro singer can ring in more notes than have ever been written in the staff. He sings in minor, major and unknown "keys." There's no precedent for what he does. Often he sings a new song and sings it differently from that of yesterday. Tomorrow he will have a new song and more harmony.

No matter what he sings and how he sings it, there is that indescribable rythm, swing and motion which is as harmonious as the flow of a meadow brook. He knows nothing of crescendos, fortissimo, pianissimo. He does know harmony.

Both Sides Are Ready In Suit For Annulment Growing Out Of Color Charge

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 30—Trial of the action brought by Leonard Kip Rhinelander, son of a wealthy New Yorker, against Mrs. Alice Beatrice Jones Rhinelander for annulment of their marriage on the ground that she deceived him as to her color, will begin before Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser at White Plains on Monday, Nov. 9, it was learned Tuesday.

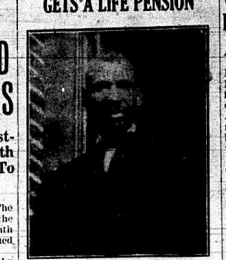
Former Supreme Court Justice Isaac N. Mills, counsel for Mr. Rhinelander, said he was ready for trial. Former District Attorney Lee Parsons Davis, who will appear for Mrs. Rhinelander, returned Monday from a big game hunting trip in British Columbia. It was said that 200 letters written by Mrs. Rhinelander would be among the exhibits.

3 INJURED IN SMASH-UP

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 30—John Rencher, Handy Wilson and Fred Harral of this city, are slowly recovering from painful injuries received when a car in which they were riding was demolished in a wreck with another car on the highway at Wilmington.

Rencher, who suffered a broken collarbone, a dislocated spine and two broken ribs, is still in a serious condition. Wilson, who sustained five broken ribs, is slowly gaining strength. Harral, who was cut and bruised, is expected to recover.

GETS A LIFE PENSION



CHAS. D. CAUL

Thirty-three years ago when the late W. C. Gordon was struggling to establish the well known corporation bearing his name, there came into his employ Charles D. Caul, the subject of this sketch. During all these years he has not only rendered the service for which he was paid, but also a splendid loyalty to the business and a devotion to his employer which amounted to almost adulation. Mr. Gordon felt that "Dave" was not only an employee, but part of the [illegible] time build. He always said, "I will never forget Dave."

At a corporation meeting when it was decided that on account of increasing infirmities Mr. Caul could no longer render the high standard of service required of all of the employees, the question arose, "What shall be his pension?" Mr. Roberts, the youngest said, "What would the Old Man" (Mr. Gordon is always affectionately referred to as the Old Man) say if he were here?"

Mrs. Gordon, the President, said, "I know it would please him to give Dave the income on $10,000 which would mean a competency during his life time." This was unanimously agreed by the stockholders, and Mr. Caul now spends the remainder of his life free from the worries of gaining a livelihood.

Honest service and devotion have their reward, and as our group struggles up to higher planes of business they are showing an appreciation and a high sense of responsibility to others never before shown by the American people.

We congratulate Mr. Caul. We also congratulate the firm of The Gordon Undertaking Establishment for their more than just treatment of an old employee.

1000 GIRLS EXPRESS THEIR CONCEPTIONS OF AN IDEAL HUSBAND

Most Are Desirous of "Caveman", With Strong Principles, Social Background and Particular Tastes.

MANHATTAN, Kans., Sept. 30—Every since the days of Adam, man has wondered why woman asks questions. Wonder no longer, woman questioner, to space-stand. Her particular feminity trait of evasiveness is especially resourceful in courtship, so that your man often finds love quite problematic.

Last week questionaires were distributed among the coeds in one of the country's large colleges inquiring as to the type of man which these young women thought ideal, and a table was compiled from the answers. The unfolding of the secrets of the women's most precious ideal revealed some real facts.

The answers to the questions as to the type of husband desired were as follows:

(Question) Object to an experienced "petter". (Answer) 75% yes, 25% no.

(Q.) Physical fitness important. (Ans.) 100% yes.

(Q.) Care about family and social background? (Ans.) 86% yes, 14% no.

(Q.) Would continue career after marriage? (Ans.) 50% yes, 70% no.

(Q.) Prefer intellectual interests mainly? (Ans.) 18% yes, 47% no, 35% medium.

As to the number of children desired the answers were: None, 3%; one, 3%; two, 21%; three, 21%; four, 26%; five, 9%; six, 9%; more, 4%.

As to the age they desired their husbands to be at the time of marriage the answers were: Twenty, 3%; twenty-one, 10%; twenty-two, 19%; twenty-three, 23%; twenty-four, 7%; twenty-five, 34%; twenty-six to thirty five, 4%.

As to the salary of husbands the answers were widely varied. They were: $1000, 2%; $1,200, 6%; $1,500, 7%; $1,800, 2%; $1,700, 2%; $1,800, 17%; $2,000, 21%; $2,100, 3%; $2,200, 2%; $2,400, 20%; $2,500, 6%; $3,000, 5%; $3,500, 2%; $5,000, 3%; $5,200, 2%.

WHAT A SMALL NEGRO COMMUNITY DID IN S. C.

Progressive Southerners, Led By Diligent Race Woman, Built A $175,000 Y. M. C. A. Center

EUCLID VILLAGE, O., Sept. 30—Notwithstanding the great handicap under which the Negro must live in the Southland, there is great progress being made. It was really gratifying to note the successful enterprises owned and conducted by Negro men and women. Race men take a genuine interest in pooling their finances, and in establishing businesses, which are patronized by their group and which in turn give empayment to their educated boys and girls.

It is not surprising to come into a small town where the population is less than 5,000 and find grocery stores, insurance companies, dry goods and shoe stores and poultry businesses being owned and operated by Negroes. A large number of men and women control real estate, from which sufficient income is had to support large families.

There is a definite and decided change in the attitude of the white people toward the Colored people. It is claimed to have been brought about through the inter-racial committees.

In Greenville, South Carolina, thru efforts of Mrs. Hattie Logan Duckett, the Phyllis Wheatley Association Community Center has been established. Three leading business white men gave $50,000-00 and the Colored people gave enough more to erect a $75,000-00 building in the heart of the business section of the city. Mrs. Duckett received inspiration and much of her observation work at the Phyllis Wheatley Association in Cleveland. Both white and Colored people serve on the Board of Trustees of the Greenville Association. A wonderful spirit of cooperation exists which other cities could well afford to exemplify. Negroes of this section are apparently satisfied and are buying property and building schools and working toward a better future.

There are similar institutions thru out the South for the betterment of Colored people.

PYTHIAN CELEBRATION AT FULTON, MISSOURI

On September 24, 1925, Golden Rule Lodge No. 61, K. of P. of Fulton, Mo., held a Pythian Conclave and Initiation which was attended by 200 visiting Pythians motoring from Jefferson City, Mexico, Auxvasse, Paris, Moberly, Hunnsville and Vandalia.

Golden Rule Lodge No. 61 of Fulton boasts of having the best initiatory team in the state. They easily proved the accuracy of their claim in conferring the Knight Degree on many candidates of their lodge and those of Auxvasse Lodge No. 80 and Western Star Lodge No. 75 of Mexico, Mo.

Their beautiful display of the ancient Greek scenes brought compliments from the hundreds of Pythians who were present. This was the first district meeting ever held by the Pythians, and its success will be followed by the holding of such meetings in every section of the state. A real barbecue feast had been prepared and was eryed at the close of the Degree Work.

Grand Chancellor A. W. Lloyd and Grand Keeper of Records and Seal W. T. Ancell were present at the Conclave. Many enthusiastic speeches were made by the Grand Officers and others visiting Knights.

At an early hour the meeting closed, pronouncing the officers and members of Golden Rule Lodge No. 61 wonderful hosts, and September 24 a real Red Letter Day for Pythianism in Missouri.

Labor Shortage Prompts Release Of Prisoners

Associated Negro Press

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 30—The labor shortage here is so great that the municipal judge has been compelled to release prisoners in order to assist in filling the demands for labor. The demand is now about exceeding by three hundred the supply coming into the state from Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and other nearby states. It is due mainly to the great development work now going on all over the state. Last Thursday Acting Municipal Judge Madison released nine prisoners from the city prison farm to be turned over to the Chamber of Commerce to help supply the demand for labor.

In some parts of the state, common laborers receives as much as four and five dollars a day, while skilled trades pay from $6 per day to as high as $11. Both black and white have an opportunity to labor in this state, and Negro skilled tradesmen are paid as well as the whites. It is reported that in Miami, contractors are at such a point in seeking labor that they take laborers from trucks which take them out to their work in the morning. They bid a dollar or two more a day than the laborer is getting and take them away. For the next five years it is predicted Florida will be a gold mine to everybody capitalist and laborers, to.

CHICAGO STARTS WAR ON MOTOR CAR "SHIEKS"

CHICAGO, Sept. 30—While the flappers who stand appealingly at the edge of the curb where the "safety lights" hold automobiles temporarily at a cross street and wink unhesitatingly accept offers to "step a lift home" miss out on the ruche. Too many girls are being fished out of canals and river slips, or picked up in various precarious conditions, the majority of them do not home, but the percentage of those who do not is too great. Organized bands of motors and white slavers have found it easy to get them, sometimes by simply inviting them into a cozie limousine.

Three girls, captured by one of the flivver squads patrolling the avenues with orders to "shoot" kidnapers, spent a night in the police station and were fined $5 each. Three men, drivers of the cars, also were fined and warned that a repetition of the offense would mean the penitentiary.

The girls were amazed that they should be arrested and held all night in cells. It is the first time we have accepted a ride home," one of them tittered, when arraigned.

"It makes no difference" said the court. "Innocent flirtations and getting into closed cars with strange men end in the morals court, destruction, disease and dope, even if you are not murdered outright."

HOOSIT?

'25—He was an African chief who became stricken with the deadly sleeping-sickness. He voluntarily offered himself to Dr. Fazan as a subject for experimenting to trace the cause of the disease. With great courage he submitted to the ordeal of going through a blood test every four hours for two months, and was overjoyed to learn that his sacrifice was enabling Dr. Fazan to find the means of saving his brethren from the dreaded scourge. He died. In the great London, England Hospital there has been erected a tablet erected to his memory over the very bed in which he died, a lasting tribute to an African chief's remarkable courage. COLORED TOWN IS ONE OF THE FINEST IN U. S.

$1,000,000 Government Built "Town Of Truxton, Va., Sold To Race Financiers Is A New Step Forward

CITY PLANNING SUBURB

Has 253 Modern Dwellings; Electric And Steam Railways, Public Edifices.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Sep 30—No longer are Boley, Okla., and Brookyn, Ill., the leading cities of the country practically owned and run solely by Negroes. Through the elocurre of a deal, with the government colored citizens bought the "war time" city of Truxton, Va., at a price close to $1500,000. It is the new 'Athens' of the colored American.

The City of Truxton lies in the suburbs of Portsmouth, Va.—is modern built for colored workers during the World War at a cost of $1,000,000. Finding little use for it since 1919, the government decided to auction the town off through sealed bids. A group of colored financiers turned out to be the highest bidders, and the town went to them.

The town of Truxton is modern in every respect and will rank with some of the best towns in the country of its size. It lies within one mile of the U. S. Navy Yard in Portsmouth. It is served by both electric and steam railways.

The picturesque little town has 253 modern dwellings of a modest yet imposing architecture. The houses are of a similar plan, each having five rooms, bath, hot water, a furnace, and an electric light system. Each home is provided with a spacious front and back yard. The town has an ideal street and sewer system, the streets being wide, paved surfaced thoroughfares having a narrow parkway containing flowers and shrubbery running through their centers.

The town's school is a modern ten room brick building. It is equipped to meet all community needs, having a spacious auditorium for concerts, picture shows and dances. The school rooms are of the most modern type.

Of the 253 houses 143 have been sold and are now occupied. All of the 105 unsold houses will be immediately placed on the market on the basis of the generous reductions. The payment on these houses will not exceed the percent a month.

It has been arranged to spend $10,000 to have most of the buildings in the town newly painted.

The colored citizens have already proceeded to form their own government, organize their own police and fire department, and set up their own businesses. The town in every respect speaks the spirit of the new Negroes of independence, faith and progressiveness.

Rotarian Denounces Klan

Associated Negro Press

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 30—The Ku Klux Klan was denounced as a group of enthusiasts, parading under the banner of patriotism that which is really a gospel of hate," by Dr. Harry E. Fish, former governor of the Thirty-fifth District of Rotary Clubs, in his address at Union Methodist Church Sunday evening.

"World Fellowship" was the subject of the speaker.

"Most people spend too much time in hating," he said. "Everybody has enough cast in him to be easily found. If he would only spend part of the time in hunting virtues that we now spend in hunting vices."

To point this charge that the Ku Klux stands for a "gospel of hate," he told the story of a barber in a western city, member of the hooded order, who put a sign over his shop door, "Hate the Negro, the Jew, the Irish."

"A storekeeper across the street thought he also knew something about Americanism," the speaker said. "He erected a sign which read, "200 Per cent American: I Hate Everybody."

"Love as the basis of brotherhood, is the only thing that will overcome the differences, misunderstandings and delusions to which humanity is given," the speaker told his big audience. "Most people spend too much in hating. None of us can tell when our end will come. No matter when it comes, life is too short to be spent in the unhappy task of disliking others."

He pleaded for "more progress in smoothing out the religious and racial prejudices that so perniciously divide us," praising the plans of the "1000 club" which is to meet at the Union Church, as "helping to beat down the barriers of creeds and races which often matter very much in setting up the standard of brotherhood and love."

Lesson for October 4

PAUL IN ATHENS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:16-34.
GOLDEN TEXT—"For Him we live, and move, and have our being."—Acts 17:28.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Tells the People About God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Preaches on Mars Hill.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—God the Father of All Mankind.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—True and False Ideas of God.

I. The Idolatry of the Athenians (v. 16).

Athens was the intellectual metropolis of the world at that time, the home of the world's greatest eloquence and philosophy. Paul's spirit was stirred within him when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

II. Paul Disputing With the Athenians (vv. 17-21).

True to his usual custom, he went into the Jewish synagogue and entered into earnest argument with the Jews and devout persons.

III. In the Mars' Hill Place (vv. 17b-21).

From the Jews he turned to such as were found in the market place. Here he came into touch with the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers. The former were atheistic materialists; the latter denied the doctrine of creation and gave themselves up to sensual indulgences since they rejected the idea of a future judgment. The latter were pantheists. When they heard the preaching of Paul they desired to know what new doctrine he preached, so they invited him to the Areopagus where he might speak to them of his new doctrine. They inquired as to what this "babbler" might say. Since the Athenians spend their whole time either in telling or hearing some new thing, they were willing to listen to Paul. The word, "babbler" means literally, "seed picker." They conceived Paul to be a globe-trotter who had gathered up seeds of truth here and there over the world, and that he was somewhat like themselves, interested in talking about that which he knew.

IV. Paul's Address on Mars' Hill (vv. 22-31).

1. The Introduction (vv. 22-23).

He did not accuse them of superstition, but as in the Revised Version, he introduces his discourse in a courteous and winning manner, stating that he perceived that they were very religious. This he explains by saying that as he was viewing their city he beheld an altar with an inscription to the unknown god. This was his point of contact. He proceeded at once to connect it with the idea of the living God, implying that this altar had been erected to Him.

2. The Body of His Discourse (vv. 24-31).

(1) A Declaration Concerning God (vv. 24-25).

a. He created the material universe (v. 24). This was a direct blow at the philosophy of both the Epicureans and the Stoics.

b. His Spirituality and Immensity (vv. 24-25).

He is not worshiped with men's hands as though He needs anything, neither is He confined by any sort of a dwelling's fetiche. Being essentially spiritual, He demands heart service, and being transcendent, above all, He is not confined to earthly temples.

c. His Active Providence (v. 25).

He gives existence, bestows needed gifts, and as sovereign, directs all things.

(2) A Declaration Concerning Man (vv. 26-31).

a. The race was a slow at the foolish Athenian pride which supposed that they were superior to all other people. This proposition he proved from their own literature (v. 28).

b. Nations have their place by the sovereign purpose of God.

c. Men Should Seek God (v. 27).

His goodness and grace in supplying all our needs, and ordering that even the affairs of the nations should have in view our relation to God.

d. The Pressing Obligation to Repent (vv. 30-31).

This was his supreme message.

V. Results of Paul's Preaching (vv. 32-34).

1. Some Mocked (v. 32).

This is even the case today. Men and women will mock the preacher who preaches a judgment to come.

2. Some Procrastinated (v. 32).

Many do not mock, but they hesitate to accept and act upon the urgency of the message.

3. Some Believed (v. 34).

Wherever the gospel is preached there are some who believe and are saved.

As Men Succeed

Men succeed in proportion to the fixity of their views and the invincibility of their purpose. If you can find out a man's quitting point, the place where he gives in, turns back, you can measure him pretty easy.—Marden.

LANE TABERNACLE

"Christianity availeth nothing if we haven't seen Christ," says Bishop Carter, Methodist Baptist, Presbyterian, or what one, the Rt. Rev. R. A. Carter, Bishop DeLaure of the Fourth Episcopal District, C. M. E. Church, who spoke at Lane Tabernacle Sunday night, would bring all Christians to worship at the shrine of Christ rather than their respective denominations. Not all good Methodists are good Christians, but a good Christian is not so concerned about denomination. In fact, to "See no one but Jesus" should be his objective, according to Bishop Carter. The speaker was offering his third message in St. Louis for the day, having spoken at Scruggs Memorial at 11 a. m. also Morning Mountain at 2 p. m. to a capacity crowd gathered at Lane Tabernacle Sunday morning to hear Rev. H. W. Evans start the new series with "Who I am a Christian." Then the Rev. came forward and said, "No, not today, next Sunday, maybe." He preached a fine sermon. Bishop Carter, who spoke Sunday night, complains that time is taking its toll from him, and that he cannot preach as he did in yester years. But as has been told above, he preached three messages Sunday, that's no age for him as the late Messrs. Sam Jones, Henry Ward Beecher or the present Mr. Billy Sunday could do.

In the graveyard quietly sleeping,
Where no human eye can see,
Lies the one we love so dearly,
In his lonesome silent grave.

May fade away and decay.
But the love we have for you,
Will never fade away.

Prof. Malone of B. N. C., whisper in a small still voice, so that the state board of education may make ample provisions to care for all applicants. So with Prof. Townsend. The City school board should provide ways by which all of the children may enter school. The time has come when there should no longer be a mincing of words by parents as regards to the moral teaching of their children. Parents should live a high moral life thegselves and see to it that each member of the family toes the mark and shoots straight. It may be the style for young girls to go half clad—for the most part nearly nude—but it certainly is not conducive to good morality.  Miss Sarah Dampie, Burnett is a substitute teacher at Branch Normal College.  We wonder what has become of the Civic League that flourished here some few months ago.  The United Friends of America held a very successful grand Lodge at Masonic Temple last week.  Hundreds of city people are going to the farms to pick cotton where they are being paid from $1.25 to $1.50 per hundred pounds. A. M. E. Church Notes

Sunday was the birthday of the pastor, Rev. R. A. King, and he was substantially surprised with a number of serviceable and appreciative presents amounting to more than thirty dollars. Immediately after the sermon, the stewardess placed a table in the front of the rostrum and the friends and members began to bring their collection to the table and then brought their presents for the pastor to the table assigned. After the collection he was reminded that it was his birthday and he proceeded to look his presents over and thank the friends and members for their kindness.

After service a number of members remained to help the pastor carry his presents into the parsonage and in doing so, they let him lead them in and the stewardess had a prepared table to his surprise filled with chicken and many other things too numerous to mention here and so completely surprised the pastor that he did not eat as heartily as he would have under ordinary circumstances.

Among some of the valuable presents were a black stetson hat, white shirt, cash money, cuff links, plenty of sucks and handkerchiefs and Mrs. King presented him with pretty dress and other articles. Rev. King heartily thanked his congregation at the evening service for their kind remembrance of him and his family. There will be a big rally of trustees and stewards on the second Sunday in October at the A. M. E. Church, getting ready to make reports complete for conference.  The Light line has connected up the city street lights and now we have light night and day. Gas must be our next object to make it less pick up and hum.  Many new brick buildings are in course of construction at this time. Several new business establishments have been established in the last few months.  Several new residences will soon show up in the next few weeks. Many improvements in all lines are contemplated at this time.  The cotton business is picking up with sunshine and hot weather.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 30.—According to many reports reaching here from Constantinople, Turkey, Turkish women, who for ages have refrussed even to show their faces in public due to religious scruples and their extreme modesty, are now showing not only their faces, but their legs. A recent "beautiful leg" contest was held in Constantinople in which four of the city's beauties competed. The latest movement is very strong in the one-time land of the Sultan.

THE SUMMERS MEDICAL CO., Wooster Street 144 South Second, Ind. (Mrs. Summers' Remedy Are Sold at Leading Drug Stores)

I want to tell you about the wonderful good your treatment did me. I suffered for three years as was weak, run down and could not do my work, but your Opaline Suppositories and medicine cured me. I have not had to use any of the last treatment I got from you. I am sure your remedies will fix all others as they have me.

Mrs. H. BURANAS, Lake Charles, La., Miss.

I know that your medicine is good because I know what it has done for me. I feel that I could not without your W. O. K. Tablets for they do me more good for Change of Life than any other medicine I have ever tried. They have also helped me in other ways. Every one that had to go to a doctor, I told them of it, instead of to the good native. I began giving them to my daughter when she was about 13 years old and now she is 17 and I can't praise your medicine enough and would advise every woman to write to you for advice and to use your Opaline Suppositories for they will do the work. Your medicine is worth more than what I am taking about.

PEARLS OF THE SOUL

By WILLIAM D. ROBINSON

(Pearls of the Soul)

AT BREAK OF DAY

I love to lie awake at break of morn,
And watch day's loveliness being slowly born:
The darkness softly fading into gray,
As twilight's glow becomes the smile of day.

I love to hear the first cock crow at dawn,
The first dog's bark across the dewy lawn;
The first outburst of factory whistles loud,
The first light footfall of the passing crowd,

As it goes forth to earn its daily bread,
And win rude shelter for its tired head.
I love to hear the first wheel turn at morn,
As struggle calls us with her noisy horn.

I love to watch gray breaking into blue,
And blue turn gray with old Sol's first bright hue,
The last star hurrying to hide away,
As from the East the rosy sunbeams play.

I love to hear the first bird sing at dawn,
And smell the freshness of the dewy lawn,
And deeply drink the elixir of life,
As bell and whistle sound the call to strife.

I love to feel within my soul at morn,
Deep gratitude to God, and peace reborn,
And kindly love toward all my fellowmen:
A clear, calm mind, bent dauntlessly to win.

I leap from bed, and breathe a grateful prayer
That God has been so good to kindly spare
So vain a thing as I: I hum a song,
As I feel in my heart life pulsing strong.

So I go forth light-hearted to my task;
And only life and health and beauty ask:
For day breaks in my soul, and joy is born
Anew at dawning of each lovely morn.

TRANQUILITY

To lie upon the breast of Mother Earth,
And feel the beating of her mighty heart,
Feel her travailing in eternal birth,
And sense that I am of her soul a part:
To feel my kinship with the dew-kissed flowers,
The rapt'rous breezes and the crystal showers,
The warbling birds and gentle laughing streams—
To understand the magic of sunbeams:
This to my heart is sweet tranquility

By getting a limit to your wants and keeping them there, you get more out of life.

You Too Can Have Beauty

"I was not always as attractive as I am now. My hair, which should be woman's greatest charm, used to look coarse and unruly due to dandruff, and my face was sallow and often bore ugly pimples.

"I had heard Exelento Quinine Pomade praised on all sides and I got a package and began using it as directed. The results were astonishing. My dandruff all left me and my hair began to get so soft and silky that it was a delight to comb it."

Then I began to use Exelento Skin Soap on my face and the results were equally amazing. All blemishes disappeared and my face became soft, smooth and beautiful."

Exelento Quinine Pomade and Exelento Skin Soap may be obtained for only 25c each at all drug stores or will be sent, postpaid, upon receipt of price.

LYNCHING THE INSANE

By William Pickens

(For The Associated Negro Press)

In the blessed state of Georgia even the Negro patients in the insane asylums are not safe from the insane mob running outside. A violently insane Negro beat some of the white nurses with a stick, and she died. Some of the nurses or other employees communicated with the unincarcerated savages on the outside, and a mob of fifty of them entered the asylum and took the insane human out and brutally lynched him.

Of course lynching can be more beastly than murder, this is the most beastly in all actually civilized communities such an act of an absolutely insane human as could be imagined, for any other regrettable accident of rage, but not a crime to be punished even by the law.  Eagles who fly high are not safe from the shafts of envy and even lose the humility necessary that they may live as mercifully as possible, but two civil and humbly beautiful men were killed right here, treating the dying man in the same way in which they would treat a dead hog, namely, by immediately beginning to cut him up.  That mob of Georgians in the name of "civilization" and "Christianity" and "Democracy" and "Americanism" and "Law and Order" and "Protection of Women" and "Self-Defense" and "Southern Chivalry" and "White Supremacy" and "Anglo-Saxon Purity" and "Patriotism" and "Loyalty to the Constitution" and "Obedience to the Supreme Court" and "Respect for Law" and "Hatred of Anarchy" and "Love of Peace" and "Abhorrence of Violence" and "Reverence for Religion" and "Devotion to the Golden Rule" and "Love of Mankind" and "Fear of God" and "Hatred of Sin" and "Love of Righteousness" and "Obedience to Jesus Christ" and "Christian Civilization" and "Christian Democracy" and "Christian Americanism" and "Christian Patriotism" and "Christian Loyalty" and "Christian Love" and "Christian Mercy" and "Christian Humanity" and "Christian Brotherhood" and "Christian Peace" and "Christian Religion" and "Christian Virtue" and "Christian Righteousness" and "Christian Holiness" and "Christian Purity" and "Christian Chastity" and "Christian Decency" and "Christian Sanity
